The New Conservative Play Book for dealing with radical leftist progressives in the age of hate and attack based politics by the left. The left is more aggressive than ever in defending polices to “radically change America”. Below is all you need to be armed to deal with the tactics of the left from the Bill Maher types to the more subtle hit and run Face book hacks.

1. Recognize that “Liberal Elite” is a title they gave themselves and you really have the intellectual, fiscal, and moral high ground when dealing with radical social progressive lefties. When they say liberal elite you say over rated obstructionist.
2. Realize you will be called a racist as it’s the new battle cry from the radical left when they are faced with the facts. When they call you a racist you say this. “The one’s playing the race like you “sir or ma’am” are the card, please don’t be racist towards me for my views”...It will really blow their minds and screw them up for the rest of any conversation you have.
3. Just accept that the main stream media, lead by MSNBC is in the tank for Obama and just move on. Do your own reading and research on multiple websites, TV shows, and radio. Get armed with numbers and facts as they have none and it really, REALLY pisses them off....You’ll be called a racist at this point 50% of the time.
4. When you share your views, stress that they are not the party of JFK. Tell the person they are a radical social progressive and that’s not the Democratic party of my parents. Using the term radical social progressive needs to be your main phrase from here on out, not Democrat, stick them with the label they are!
5. Ask them if they support women being called names and treated like objects like Anthony Wiener and Ed Schultz and Keith Olberman and Bill Maher do and why don’t more “Radical Social Progressives” speak out about this new form of racism against women from left wing hacks?
6. Ask them how many people they know are better off under social progressive economic policies and why? Then refer to rule #3 and hit them with facts like 2.5 million net jobs lost, 46% of the country does not pay taxes; is that shared sacrifice?, we have $6 trillion in new debt and no jobs to show for it with 9.2% unemployment.....

7. When they say “Bush Did it”, you say NO....It’s time to stop accepting that and throw it in their face that we are three years into the radical social progressive agenda for change and America is worse off than ever in our history. Stop even dealing with “Bush did it” and say...”Obama did it”!
8. Don’t buy the moral arguments radial liberal progressives make to play the guilt card. It’s a ploy and even they don’t play by the moral equivalents they quote. Use your moral compass to decide things like if a person should earn their keep vs. get a free ride.
9. Give them tough love and ask them if they would want their kids and grandkids to live off the work of others? Do they teach their kids it’s OK to expect a free ride, do as little as possible and get entitlements for life? Do they accept that their kids and grandkids should aspire have a life that is controlled and decided by the government? Don’t let them off the hook...only the takers will say yes anyway so throw it in their face that they are takers and living off the fruit of others with no real desire to do their fair share.
10. Learn when you’re dealing with a lost cause, a real ideologue that won’t budge or really wants a radical socialist progressive America and just walk away referring back to rule #1.
